

ARGE AGAINST MELLON TABLED WITH NO ACTION

Resolution Introduced by Senator McKellar Dropped

WASHINGTON, March 31.—A resolution designed tooust Secretary Mellon from office on technical legal grounds, launched last Friday by Senator McKellar, Democrat, Tennessee, bobbed up automatically in the senate today only to land on the table with no one demanding action upon it.

It was buffeted severely by Mr. Mellon's Republican defenders before it stranded, while Senator McKellar was the only voice urging it on its way.

Senator Robinson of Arkansas, the Democratic leader who returned to Washington after an absence of several days disclaimed responsibility for the move initiated by the Tennessee senator.

Senator McKellar declared he was not charging Mr. Mellon with any wrong doing or failure but merely insisting upon enforcement of old statutes forbidding appointment as federal fiscal officers of men "interested or concerned in the pursuit of commercial enterprises."

Senator Reed, Republican, Pennsylvania, asserted from personal knowledge that Mr. Mellon had divested himself of every commercial and industrial connection that could be questioned in any way before he went to the treasury.

"Mellon Companies."

The names of the "Mellon companies" were flung about in general terms during the senate debate. Before the special senate committee investigating the internal revenue bureau, however, the intimate tax affairs of the Gulf oil corporation in which Mr. Mellon is a minority stockholder were aired in detail. Sparks flew in the committee room between Senator Couzens, Republican, Michigan, director of the inquiry, and Senator Ernst, Republican, Kentucky, who defended the treasury head when Senator Couzens started a line of inquiry that the Kentucky senator believed looked like the committee was "hunting Mellon."

The McKellar resolution, the last thing before the senate when it adjourned Friday and the instant it was reproduced in this position, Senator Reed plunged into a detailed statement of the interests Mr. Mellon had at the time he was tendered a cabinet post by President Harding.

Senator Reed said his own law partner, Judge James H. Reed of Pittsburgh, had called Mr. Mellon's attention immediately to the restrictive statutes to which the McKellar resolution referred. Mellon welcomed the chance of escape from cabinet duty for which he had "no particular enthusiasm," his defender stated, and hastened to Washington to consult the late Senator Ernest O'Connell of Pennsylvania and seek withdrawal of the offer by President Harding.

Status Investigated

Senator Knox would not agree but submitted the facts to a Washington law firm for legal opinion. Senator Reed said, which held that retention of non-controlling stock holdings in commercial companies was not a bar to office. Senator Reed himself found later, however, a section of the federal reserve act which made it necessary for Mr. Mellon to dispose of all his holdings in three Pittsburgh and one New York bank before he took the oath of office.

Senator McKellar replied to Senator Reed by reciting legal precedents and insisting that regardless of his efforts to free himself, Secretary Mellon as admitted on the floor in connection with his present stock holdings, was within the purview of the statutory prohibition of "direct or indirect interest or concern" in industrial or commercial enterprises. He was answered from various angles by Senator Edge of New Jersey and Fess, Ohio, Republicans.

That seemed to exhaust the senate's desire to talk about the resolution and as no one had moved for its immediate consideration or any other disposition it retired to the calendar automatically, joining a host of other matters that sleep there "on call."

Senator McKellar denied any plan of withdrawing it but added he did not now when he would attempt to bring it to a vote.

COMMITTEE DECIDES TO GO ON WITH WORK IN DAUGHERTY PROBE

Program Calls for Testimony for Remainder of Week

WASHINGTON, March 31.—A decision to continue its work was reached today by the Daugherty investigating committee and in two executive sessions it laid out a tentative program which will keep it in open session for the taking of testimony until the end of this week. Chairman Brookhart said.

Notwithstanding the indicated purpose of the committee's members to seek new light in the further proceedings of the department of justice record of war fraud and anti-trust prosecutions it closed sessions today were given over largely to consideration of problems arising out of its earlier activity of charges against Mr. Daugherty.

Comptroller of the Currency Dawes was called into the afternoon conference to discuss ways and means of bringing under examination the books of the Midland National Bank at Washington Court House, Ohio, of which M. S. Daugherty, the former attorney general's brother, is president.

The bank president has refused both to answer the committee's subpoena or to allow its agents to inspect all the records but a motion before the committee to cite him to the senate for contempt was left pending to be called up later.

Senator Wheeler, Democrat, Montana, the "committee prosecutor" also interviewed action Attorney General Beck during the day, and arranged tentatively to have Gaston B. Means, a former government investigator left temporarily in the committee's service, in spite of the issuance of a bench warrant early today requiring his presence in the federal courts in New York.

Although Senator James A. Reed has filed his name as a Democratic presidential candidate no list of delegates in his behalf is before the voters.

The contest for delegates in the Republican column lies between the LaFollette and the Coolidge factions with indications pointing to the election of delegates for the Wisconsin senator in all but the first district although prediction is made of Coolidge success in the faction.

They were sentenced to one year in the Vermillion county jail and fined $100 on the nuisance count. All of the sentences are to run concurrently.

Counsel for the defense made a motion for a new trial, but this was overruled and the attorney then made an effort to get their clients out on bail today.

Judge Lindsey denied this stating that until the regular appeal forms have been made the defendants would remain in the custody of the United States marshal.

Coolidge Considering New Attorney General

WASHINGTON, March 31.—President Coolidge got down to cases today in his task of selecting a successor to Harry M. Daugherty as attorney general.

Having determined during the week-end the type of men he desires for the cabinet place, the president called into consultation two of his closest advisers in the legal profession, Senator Pepper of Pennsylvania and Secretary of War Weeks.

With his two advisers Mr. Coolidge went over a list of those he has under consideration.

This list is said to include the names of Harlan F. Stone, dean of the Columbia University School of Law; Federal Judge Frank S. Dietrich of Idaho; Judge William S. Kenyon, of the federal court of appeals; and Justice Governor Nathan L. Miller of New York.

Indications were given during the day, however, others still in the president's mind to a greater or less degree were Arthur F. Rugg, chief justice of Massachusetts, supreme judicial court, Governor Alexander J. Groesbeck of Michigan, and Senator Borah of Idaho.

The president during his conference with Senator Pepper and Secretary Weeks was understood to have inquired relative to the qualifications of the various men on his list and to have sought advice respecting wisdom of appointing each of those mentioned.

The positive statement was made at the white house at the end of the day that though no tender of the post had been made that the appointment probably would be made within a few days.

The only concrete developments of the day beyond the conferences appeared to be the addition of the name of former Governor Miller to the list of those being considered and the virtual elimination of Chief Justice Rugg from the list.

The general belief is that the president would like to appoint Chief Justice Rugg and would do so if the chief justice were on any other state than Massachusetts. The president feels however, that Massachusetts already has more than its share of federal offices.

LOWDEN MAKES MANY CHARGES IN SPEECH
AGAINST LEN SMALL

Claims Confidence in Government is Now Threatened

DANVILLE, Ill., March 31.—Former Governor Frank O. Lowden tonight in endorsing the candidacy of Thurlow G. Essington for chief executive of Illinois declared that the principles of self-government are at stake in the contest for the Republican nomination between Governor Len Small and Essington.

He asserted that Governor Small, thru what he termed an abuse of the pardon power, thru claimed use of the government funds for printing campaign literature, thru asserted enforced political activity by office holders, and thru alleged "bribery" of voters by promising good roads in return for support, was threatening confidence in government.

Former Governor Lowden demanded for one month's salary to be turned into the Smith campaign fund. He declared that state workers "are released from their ordinary duties and are concentrating their energies upon a political campaign."

The candidacy of Essington was endorsed with the statement by the former governor that "he is inspired with a sense of service to the public. He has character. He says he will carry on the policies inaugurated under my administration as governor and I am willing to go his bond that he will keep that promise."

ENGRAVING BUREAU
HEARING HELD UP

WASHINGTON, March 31.—The house committee authorized to investigate alleged irregularities at the bureau of engraving and printing was prevented from beginning its hearings today by the refusal of Clerk Morgan H. Beach of the District of Columbia supreme court to turn over to the committee a batch of government bonds in his possession.

Charles B. Brewer, whose investigation of conditions in the bureau led President Harding to discharge 28 officials two years ago, contends that the bonds are duplicates. As a result of a suit by Brewer to prevent the treasury from gaining possession of the bonds they have been impounded by Justice Stafford.

Subpoenaed to turn them over to the committee Beach today took the position that he could not do so unless instructed by the court.

Members of the committee said they were confident that Justice Stafford would agree to let the committee examine them.

RESOLUTION FOR RESIGNATION OF ROOSEVELT MADE

Motion by Senator Dill Brings Out Heavy Oratory

WASHINGTON, March 31.—While the senate oil committee was in recess today opponents of the leasing of the naval reserves were restricted in their action to the floor of the senate where developments centered around a resolution by Senator Dill, Democrat, Washington, calling for the resignation of Assistant Secretary Roosevelt.

It was agreed to increase the corporation tax of 12 1/2 percent to 14 percent and eliminate the special tax on capital stock amounting to $1 for each $1,000 of stock.

Senator Reed, Republican, Pennsylvania, who proposed the action said it would make no material change in the amount of revenue collected from this source but that present administrative difficulties would be lessened by elimination of the capital stock tax. The vote on the motion was two to four.

Senator Reed also proposed the amendment which was carried by a similar vote to make taxable the income from state and municipal securities hereafter issued.

Opponents argued such action was unconstitutional and would have to be brought about by a constitutional amendment. Such an amendment was defeated this session by the house, which also rejected a proposal such as was adopted tonight.

Both the corporation tax change and the tax-exempt securities proposal were carried by non-partisan votes.

Plans for forthcoming hearings do not go beyond the delving into campaign contributions from oil interests, members of the committee said but there was no confirmation of reports that an early conclusion of that body's activities was now foreseen.

R. H. Wilson, once a candidate for the Democratic nomination for governor of Oklahoma and George White, former chairman of the Democratic national committee are expected to testify tomorrow.

CHICAGO, March 31.—The poultry industry is expanding so rapidly that over-production may cut the farmers' profits to pin money in a short time unless eggs and poultry can be produced at less cost the Sears Roebuck Agricultural Foundation announced today after a survey.

The foundation estimated there are more than 491,000,000 chickens on 5,000,000 farms, an increase of about 50,000,000 or nearly 12 percent over figures a year ago and 121,000,000 since January 1, 1923. Production of eggs, the foundation's report said, increased one-third between 1923 and 1924 while the population increased 5.3 percent.

In 1923 enough eggs were produced to furnish each man, woman and child in the United States with 20 dozen. Egg prices last year the report said averaged 27.2 cents per dozen, a gain of 5.4 percent over the 1922 price.

Market prices for eggs have taken a drop this spring, however, the report said and farm poultry prices have gradually declined from a peak of $6.75 cents per chicken to 64.27 cents in 1923.

At the trial the present libel laws would be followed and it convicted the journalists would be barred from practicing for three years.

Would Declare Them Professional and Hold for Libel

OKLAHOMA CITY, Okla., Mar. 31.—An initiative measure which would declare newspapermen members of a profession and subject to removal upon conviction of libel, is to be filed with the secretary of state by Aldrich Blake, head of the Visible Government League of Oklahoma, according to his announcement tonight.

The measure is one of three comprising a legislative program which Blake described as the most revolutionary ever offered the voters of Oklahoma. The other two measures would provide for a radical reform in state election laws and for a unicameral legislature elected each two years and meeting annually.

The bill dealing with newspapermen embraces persons employed on newspapers or magazines to "write, edit or assist in the preparation of any news or editorial matter."

All journalists would be required to take an oath upon which they would receive a license from the secretary of state without cost. The bill would require all persons participating in the publication of news or editorials to sign the original copy which would be retained sixty days in the office of publications.

This action was taken after a day in which the pruning knife had been used vigorously when the rate schedules were taken up. Other action at the night session included modification of the corporation tax, insertion of a provision to prevent issuance hereafter of tax-exempt securities and rejection of a sales tax proposal.

BUSH FAMILY RETURNS FROM FLORIDA TRIP

Mr. and Mrs. T. N. Bush and Daughter Again in Jacksonville After Five Months Spent in South.

Mr. and Mrs. T. N. Bush and Miss Marie Bush, of 277 Finley street, returned to Jacksonville Sunday, after five months spent in Florida, and in touring the eastern states, trips which they made entirely by motor.

The Bush party left Jacksonville on October 25, taking the route known as the "Short Route," that led them through the states of Kentucky and Tennessee, arriving at Lake Worth, Florida, a resort a few miles of Palm Beach, where they spent the winter months. Their visit in Florida was unusually delightful, with pleasant weather, and beautiful scenic surroundings.

On March 10, they left Florida, taking a route through the states of the Carolinas, the Virginias, and arriving in Washington, D. C., where they found six inches of snow. After a few days spent in the Capital City, the party started for Illinois, crossing the Cumberland mountains and passing through Pennsylvania, and other of the Eastern states. Traveling was very difficult on the return trip and the travelers were forced to make the trip home through snow-covered roads. The return trip in all covered a period of sixteen days, during which the Bush party spent the time with out-door living, not caring to take advantage of hotel facilities.

They encountered many interesting and exciting experiences during their trip, but count it as one of the most pleasant and profitable periods of their lives.

COMMUNITY DRAMA TO BE GIVEN AT WHITE HALL

White Hall, March 31. Announcement is made of the completion of the east for "Occupation None," which is to be produced in Prince's theatre on the evening of April 8th. This is a splendid community drama that has aroused enthusiasm in all parts of the state, and is to be produced here under the auspices of the P. E. O., assisted by other well known people, for a special community cause. The play is produced only under the direction of the author, Mrs. C. J. McConnell, of Champaign, who was for many years in extension work for the state university. Mrs. McConnell was a speaker at the recent opening of the Chamber of Commerce rooms.

"The Illini," the state university play, says of the play: "It contains the most original lines and was the best acting ever seen in Urbana."

The White Hall east is now in training, and the play will be a finished production without the usual amateurish uncertainty. Thirty people, a two-hour laugh, good songs, much action, a tear, a thrill, beautiful tableau mark the course of its presentation. An inspiration for better home life is the story of "Occupation None" from every community where it has been produced.

Fruit Juices Valuable

A barrage of breakfast table questions left Mr. Mann quite stunned as he hastened to the office.

"Say, what's calcium?" he asked his stenographer. "Electric lights, of course." But that didn't seem to fit the situation, so he called on the physical director.

"It's what youngsters need. And, by the way, if you get better acquainted with it you might be worried less about incipient diabetes and acidosis," the director said.

"The better known name for it is lime," "Maybe you have never wondered why orange juice was recommended for breakfast. Fruit juices are rich in calcium."

"Young animals that get insufficient calcium are undersized and have poor appetites. Sunlight has some peculiar influence upon it, turning it into a form of energy, that's why the light gets its name. Also calcium in the blood is important in maintaining the action of the heart muscle.

"Thus, in many severe heart cases, a salt solution is administered. Give the kids lots of calcium early in life and they can deposit it in the walls of the arteries and in the bones. It is great for building up the bones of the body.

Give the youngsters fruit juices and they'll store up calcium against a rainy day."

SISTER MARY'S KITCHEN [A daily menu for the stout and thin] EAT AND— Lose Weight — Gain Weight

One cup strawberries, 1 open cottage cheese sandwich, boiled fresh salmon (about 8 ounces), 6 spring onions, 1 cup beet greens, 1 new potato with mince parsley, 1 tablespoon shredded fresh pineapple, 1 tomato on a bed of watercress, 1 toasted bran muffin, 1 whole wheat roll, 1 pint skimmed milk.

Total calories, 1073. Protein, 23.1; fat, 34.5; carbohydrate, 197. Iron, .0194 gram.

The person who is dieting to reduce in weight can eat most of the vegetable as they come in season. Vegetables that you know contain a large amount of starch should be used in moderation but with the exception of peas any of the so-called succulent vegetables can be eaten freely. All the "greens" can be included in your diet.

Of the meats, the leanest, the best parts of beef, lamb or mutton and occasionally veal, calves' sweetbreads, brains, tongue and heart are permissible as desired.

Sweet fruits such as grapes, sweet cherries and bananas and the sweet dried fruits should be omitted from the diet until the desired weight is reached. Then even those fruits can be used in moderation.

And when you have finally achieved your slender "silhouette" moderation must be your watchword or you'll find yourself putting on unwelcome weight.

MARBACH IS FIRST REVIVAL PREACHER

State Street, Pastor Delivers Sermon at Union Meeting—Full Schedule This Week.

Rev. W. H. Marbach, pastor of State Street Presbyterian church, delivered the first sermon of the union revival series at Grace M. E. church last night, taking as his subject, "A Threefold Challenge." The main floor of the auditorium was well filled, as was also the platform for the large chorus choir.

Rev. T. W. Smith presided during the service. Rev. G. E. Stickney read the scripture, and Rev. G. W. Randle, offered prayer. As an offertory, the chorus choir, under the leadership of Homer Wood, sang, "May the Master Count on You." Mr. Wood sang as a solo, "Leave a Little Bit of Love."

The ministers held a conference after the meeting and arranged for the outside meetings for the week. At 12:30 o'clock Wednesday afternoon, a meeting of half an hour will be held at the Elbridge Co. Rev. W. E. Spoons will be in charge and will be assisted by Carl E. Robinson and J. J. Reece. A similar meeting will be held Friday at the Camp mills, led by the pastor (tomorrow night).

Marbach Delivers Message
Rev. Mr. Marbach used as his text last night the words in II Tim. 2:1, "Therefore be strong in Christ." He called upon the men and women of the churches of Jacksonville to accept and meet certain challenges thrown out by Christ. First, there is the challenge to stir up the spiritual life within the individual. There can be no real revival unless the spirit of God takes hold of the Christian and moves him to service for Christ. Such a spiritual awakening should come because of the Gospel heritage, because of the gospel which has been left to the keepers of Christ's church and their responsibility of giving it to the whole world. The church member should have a spiritual life stirred because his is a religion of the soul, and not of material things. A deeper consecration to God and a more earnestness of the spirit is necessary to an outward life of Christian devotion.

Second, there is the challenge to suffer hardship and ridicule because of the religion which the Christian holds. We are often inclined to feel that the age of such suffering is past and that the way is now easy for the Christian religion. If we are inclined to compromise with the world, this may be true, but a real consecrated stand for the principles of Christ always brings suffering and persecution. His is the way of sacrifice and without this element his teaching would be robbed of their fundamental power and purpose.

There is, third and last, the challenge to be loyal, to stand true to the teachings and spirit of Christ. Every army has its deserters, this is a sad truth and it applies to Christianity also. There are those who say they are, but they are not. They get to the point where they do not come out from the world, where the weeds of sin choke out the spiritual life and smother their good purposes. This is all the more reason why those who name the name of the Master should stand loyal to this and his plan of saving the world. But the more important reason for such loyalty is the loyalty of others like themselves. Such steadfastness may then find its expression in a mutual helpfulness and a common strength. Finally, the Christian should be strong in Christ, using the Master as his source of power and power of strength in times of great trial.

There is, third and last, the challenge to be loyal, to stand true to the teachings and spirit of Christ. Every army has its deserters, this is a sad truth and it applies to Christianity also. There are those who say they are, but they are not. They get to the point where they do not come out from the world, where the weeds of sin choke out the spiritual life and smother their good purposes. This is all the more reason why those who name the name of the Master should stand loyal to this and his plan of saving the world. But the more important reason for such loyalty is the loyalty of others like themselves. Such steadfastness may then find its expression in a mutual helpfulness and a common strength. Finally, the Christian should be strong in Christ, using the Master as his source of power and power of strength in times of great trial.

Rev. Mr. Marbach used as his text last night the words in II Tim. 2:1, "Therefore be strong in Christ." He called upon the men and women of the churches of Jacksonville to accept and meet certain challenges thrown out by Christ. First, there is the challenge to stir up the spiritual life within the individual. There can be no real revival unless the spirit of God takes hold of the Christian and moves him to service for Christ. Such a spiritual awakening should come because of the Gospel heritage, because of the gospel which has been left to the keepers of Christ's church and their responsibility of giving it to the whole world. The church member should have a spiritual life stirred because his is a religion of the soul, and not of material things. A deeper consecration to God and a more earnestness of the spirit is necessary to an outward life of Christian devotion.

Second, there is the challenge to suffer hardship and ridicule because of the religion which the Christian holds. We are often inclined to feel that the age of such suffering is past and that the way is now easy for the Christian religion. If we are inclined to compromise with the world, this may be true, but a real consecrated stand for the principles of Christ always brings suffering and persecution. His is the way of sacrifice and without this element his teaching would be robbed of their fundamental power and purpose.

IN APPRECIATION

For several years we have been associated with Mr. Patsy Shannahan, he being our tenant on East State street ever since we became owners of the store there. During all of that time, our relations have been of the friendliest and owing to Mr. Shannahan's business-like methods, there has never been one word of squabble between us. We take this way of showing our appreciation of this gentleman and his wife also.

Mr. Shannahan leaves us with the best wishes possible on both sides and is simply taking a rest for the benefit of his health. For twenty-four years he has walked up and down the store and always had a smile for his many customers. Very few are the people who can say that he has not been a real friend. He believes that every man should have a chance and never a word escapes him against his fellow man. We are for him wherever he goes and whatever he does and if we have an empty store when he comes back and wants it, he can have it.

SHEETS TELLS OF ROAD
WORK DONE BY STATE

What do our roads cost? This question is definitely answered in the following statement just issued by Frank T. Sheets, state superintendent of highways: "Certain misstatements by those who apparently are misinformed, have recently been made through the state regarding the cost of state roads.

"Therefore, the following figures have been compiled from the official records of the division of highways in order that any false impressions created by such misstatements may be corrected and the people of the state fully and truly informed. Any citizen desiring to do so is welcome to verify these figures by an examination of the records.

"An analysis of the contracts awarded during the administration of Governor Len Small from January 1, 1921, to January 1, 1924, reveals the following:

"1,993.24 miles of pavement have been awarded directly by the state at a total cost of $54,333,419.75. This results in an average cost per mile of $27,258.79, including cement. Of this 1,993.24 miles, there were 854.44 miles on which the fills were so heavy and the bridges so large that it was advisable from an engineering standpoint to let separate contracts for grading and bridge work. By so doing the work was done at less cost and the fills had time to settle for approximately a year before the pavement was placed. Also the large bridges were completed in advance of paving operations and the back fills adjacent to them were given adequate time to settle.

"The total cost of the heavy grading and bridge work on this 854.44 miles was $6,951,143.83. From this it is readily seen that 1,138.81 miles or 57 percent of the 1,993.24 miles were roads on which absolutely no work had been done prior to awarding the pavement contract, and the price per mile included absolutely all items relating to construction. The total cost of this 1,138.81 miles was $31,172,519.61, or $27,372.91 per mile. Adding to the cost of the 1,993.24 miles the cost of the unusual and heavy work on the 854.44 miles of pavement above stated, the total cost of $61,284,563.58 is obtained.

"It can readily be seen that this represents an average cost of $30,746.14 per mile for the entire 1,993.24 miles. This average of $30,746.14 per mile exceeding $30,000 per mile, is caused by the fact that on 255.18 miles of this 854.44 miles the heavy grading was done prior to Governor Small's administration at a cost of $13,096.84 per mile, which is more than double the cost of the same class of work during the present administration. "It is only fair, therefore, to eliminate from consideration the 255.18 miles in considering the work done by the present administration. On this basis there are left for consideration 1,738.06 miles, the total cost of which, including the cost of 599.26 miles of grading and bridge work let separately under the present governor's administration is $50,922,949.99, or $29,298.61 per

Letters were received yesterday by a number of local citizens, in which the Union Protestant revival meetings, which opened last night, were heartily endorsed by the Knights of the Ku Klux Klan. The citizens were urged to get solidly back of the movement, and to attend the services at least twice a week.

BAD WEATHER KEEPS ILLINOIS INACTIVE

URBANA, Ill., March 31.—Two inches of snow, which will usher in April Fool's Day tomorrow, are putting a large crimp in early season activities of the University of Illinois track and baseball squads. Neither team has been able to hold outdoor athletics as yet owing to the uniformly bad weather and with the track men meeting in ten days for the dual meet with California at Berkeley, and the start of the annual Southern baseball trip only a fortnight away, coaches Harry Gill and Carl Lundgren are despairing of getting their squads into first class condition before they leave Urbana.

An epidemic of injuries has further added to the gloom in the track training quarters.

Seth Hughes star 220 yard dash man, has been ill for three weeks and is about to withdraw from school. Boy Avery, winner of the dual sprint in the recent Big Ten indoor meet and Kyle, negro dash artist, are out of training with pulled tendons, while both Dean Brown and Milton Angier, Coach Gill's record smashing pole vaulter and javelin thrower, have been ill and out of practice.

UNDERSTUDY FOR KELLY
George Kelly, the elongated first sacker of the New York Giants, will have a worthy understudy this year in the person of Terry of Toledo. This fellow Terry is hitting them so hard in spring training that Kelly is already worried.

CARDINALS MAY USE SPORTSMAN'S PARK

St. Louis, Mo., March 31.—A temporary injunction preventing the St. Louis Browns from excluding the St. Louis Cardinals from the use of Sportsman's Park as a ball ground was returned by Circuit Judge Frey here today.

Issuance of the injunction will assure the Cardinals a place to play in St. Louis until the permanent hearing is held.

It directs the landowners to refrain from closing the Cardinals' lease hold as had been requested by the Browns because of an overdue payment of rent.

According to the Cardinals' manager, the failure to pay was merely an oversight. He testified that forfeiture of the lease would cause financial disaster for Cardinals' prospects. It is said the Browns started the action against the Cardinals because of the latter team's objection to proposed improvements at the ball grounds.

It is believed more than 1,500 athletes will compete in the Drake classic this year. All receipts are pro-rated equitably among the visiting teams to help defray expenses.

Billy Evans Says

To be knocked out doesn't necessarily ruin the ring career of a fighter

Until his knockout by Jack Delaney, which by the way was entirely unexpected, Paul Berlenbach was the reigning sensation in pugilistic circles.

Berlenbach, an amateur and professional, had hung up an impressive string of knockouts. Fight fans like the baby face, with the sleek, shining, well-oiled, just as base ball enthusiasts idolize the home-run hitter.

The unexpected knockout of Berlenbach, caused by over-matching the youngster, caused many of the critics to remark that it meant the passing of Berlenbach as a possible champion.

The ability to take a knock and come back fighting is often the best index to a fighter's possibilities. Berlenbach didn't quit under fire. He was game to the finish and the wise referee stopped the fight rather than permit an actual knockout.

Interviewed after the fight, Berlenbach took his defeat philosophically. A cool, calculating cuss, who lacks color, he simply remarked:

"Dempsey was knocked out only to later knock out the same man and finally win a championship."

"The great Stanley Ketchell was stopped by Panke, only to reverse the performance the next time they met and win back his title."

"Benny Leonard was knocked out early in his career, yet became lightweight champion, and is generally regarded as one of the greatest fighters of all time."

"Most of the great fighters have gone through the experience of taking the count. I am not worrying. Inside of a year I will stop Delaney."

It certainly is going to be hard to keep a fellow with such a temperament down. Berlenbach packs a punch in either hand. Generalship and cleverness, that come with ring experience, are now lacking.

A more recent surprise than the defeat of Berlenbach was the losing of the bantamweight championship by Joe Lynch to Al Goldstein.

For a year Lynch has been playing the small towns, engaging in no decision bouts, picking his opponent. Risking his title for the first time in 15 months he failed to come through.

About three years ago Lynch fought Goldstein, knocking him out in the 11th round. Goldstein noted for his timidity, was hardly conceded an outside chance to win over Lynch.

The feeling prevailed that Goldstein would remember that knockout and wouldn't take any chances, thereby losing the big opportunity of his career.

Goldstein surprised. From every angle and won a popular decision.

Either Lynch can no longer make the bantam weight, or he is strong or he has gone back a city block.

Goldstein proved that a knockout doesn't spell finish, by winning a championship from a fighter who three years previous had stopped him.

SPAULDING WON FROM MILWAUKEE

CHICAGO, March 31.—The Spaulding Institute basketball team, Peoria, Ill., won the Catholic's national interscholastic championship last night at Loyola university from Marquette university high. SPURNS SALARY RAISE, CATCHER WANTS TO WORK

St. Petersburg, Fla.,—One of the few members of the seventh place Braves who got a raise this year was Frank Gibson, second string catcher. Gibson didn't catch many games but he did well in those which he did catch, so the management decided to increase his pay.

And then lo and behold! Mr. Gibson returns his contract with the following remarks: "Your money is all right, but what I want is work. Unless I get assurances that I will catch at least half the games this year I won't report."

The assurances not being forthcoming, Mr. Gibson kept his word and refused to report.

Young Stribling Wins Over Mike McTigue

NEWARK, N. J., March 31.—(AP)—William L. (Young) Stribling, Georgia school boy, ring man, battered his way to a spectacular victory tonight over Mike McTigue, world's light heavyweight champion, but his youthful eagerness cost him a golden chance to lift the coveted crown with his triumph.

A record crowd of nearly 15,000 in the First Regiment Armory saw the strapping Georgia youngster decisively outpoint his veteran rival from start to finish and have the champion on the verge of a knockout in the tenth round. But McTigue weathered the storm and snatched back the title laurels that Stribling had within his grasp.

Under the New Jersey no-decision laws, a championship cannot change hands except by a foul or knockout and when McTigue was on his feet at the end of the twelfth and final round, his crown, though at a disjointed angle, remained on his head.

Stribling, fighting the most sensational and determined battle of his meteoric career, won every one of the 12 rounds, in the opinion of a majority of newspapermen, with his slashing whirlwind attack. The 19-year-old youngster made a gallant bid for world title laurels, but his over-anxiety at the crucial moment cost him the chance to gain that goal.

Stribling sensed that he had the championship within reach and repeatedly tried to break thru McTigue's guard but the veteran's resourcefulness and shifty defense saved him from further damaging punishment until the bell.

Through the closing two rounds, Stribling carried the attack in an effort to finish the title-holder but McTigue having tasted of the youngster's heavy artillery kept out of range, blocked the Georgian's rushes and stayed completely on the defensive.

Fight by Rounds
First Round—Stribling landed twice with his left but missed. He landed two lefts to the head at close quarters and McTigue shot over his right. Stribling shot in a right to the jaw and McTigue was wild in a counter attack. The youngster lunged with his left landing lightly, but McTigue came back with a right to the ribs. The youngster took a hard right to the head after one of his lunges was blocked. They were sparring at long range at the bell.

Round Two—McTigue landed a right and left to the body and they clinched. The youngster drove a left to the stomach and following with a battery of lefts to the jaw and drove the champion to the ropes. Stribling blocked a right to the head and they both protested to the referee after a clinch each claiming the other was hitting unfairly. Stribling landed a left to the jaw and they clinched furiously at close range. McTigue clipped Stribling on the head with a right but took several stinging lefts to the body and head. The bell sounded as they were sparring.

Round Three—Stribling rushed McTigue but missed the champion landing his right. Stribling snapped McTigue's head back with a left and easily dodged the champion's counter. As they came to grips the youngster pounded McTigue's head. McTigue took the aggressive but was set back with a stiff right to the head that put the crowd in an uproar. The champion was missing repeatedly as they came to close quarters. They were in a clinch at the end.

Round Four—Stribling stung McTigue with a left jab and pounded the champion. The champion was jabbed fiercely as they came to close quarters. McTigue gave ground under the Georgian's slashing attack but did not seem badly hurt. Stribling missed a right swing and took a left hook to the ribs. McTigue took two lefts to the head and failed to land a counter blow. Stribling forced the champion to the ropes with a wild rush, landing his left several times. McTigue was jabbing the youngster back when the gong rang.

Round Five—They sparred at long range and the champion blocked two of his rival's rushes. They clinched repeatedly amid the bores of the crowd. McTigue landed a right and they clinched again. The challenger easily ducked a right and dug his left into the champion's ribs and chin. They were in a clinch at the end of the round.

Round Six—Stribling rushed in and landed his left to the jaw. They wrestled into a clinch and the Georgian pounded the back of McTigue's head. Stribling landed a hard right hook to the champion's head. McTigue showed little aggressiveness and seemed content to block and clinch. Stribling jabbed with his lightning left repeatedly without drawing a return. He joded the champion with one punch to the jaw but took a right in return. McTigue landed a right to the ribs at the bell.

Round Eight—Stribling battered the champion about the body and head as they clinched. The champion was forced to the ropes by a rush but blocked most of his opponent's blows. Stribling repeatedly tried to lead in with his left but the champion frustrated most of these attacks with his defensive cleverness. There was little clean cut action because of the frequent clinching tactics of both men at close quarters. The round ended as Stribling ducked a left.

Round Nine—McTigue landed both hands to the body, but took a left jolting left to the jaw as he backed out of the clinch. Both were wild with right leads and the youngster blocked the champion's left. Stribling rocked McTigue with two hard rights to the head but the champion covered quickly. McTigue seemed dazed and took a left to the ear. Stribling missed a right as they emerged from a clinch at the bell.

McTigue clinched and countered with a right to the head. McTigue ducked a wild rush and Stribling brought a roar from the crowd by jumping up and down. Stribling knocked McTigue down with a right to the jaw. He followed with a fierce attack as the champion got up, but was wild. McTigue clinched and backed around the ring. Stribling drove in a left but the champion clinched again. Stribling drove McTigue to the ropes and battered the champion fiercely. McTigue, badly dazed staggered to his corner at the bell and the crowd was in an uproar.

Round Eleven—Stribling opened with a vicious attack to the body and forced the champion to the ropes. McTigue clung tightly to his opponent in the clinches, but was an easy target for the Georgian's left. Stribling was wild in his seeming over-anxiety to land a knockout. McTigue jabbed lightly with his left to the jaw. The champion forced frequent clinches and stayed on the defensive.

That's What They Go There For We stood in the shade of a royal palm watching a strenuous struggle of checkers between two white-bearded octogenarians. The fortunes of war changed constantly as drive and counter drive were launched with great ferocity against the two king rows. Presently the 87-year-old battler from Indiana scored a win and his opponent retired to the side lines for treatment.

Fixing us with a confident, challenging gaze, the exultant victor demanded: "Well, sit in, sonny, and see what you can do."

We replied we did not play checkers.

"Well, what the Heck are you doing down in Florida then?" "There's one thing you can say about our ball club," confides Dave Bancroft. "None of us is personally acquainted with Mr. Daugherty."

Old Dick Rudolph is working out with the Braves again and he doesn't look a bit different than he did when we saw him last at Valley Forge with Washington's squad.

ILLINI LOOK OVER FRESHMEN CAGE MEN
Urbana, Ill.,—Freshman varsity basketball players at the University of Illinois have received their numerals and disbanded. Of the 550 candidates who came out for the squad last September, eleven were awarded the coveted emblems.

K. J. Lipe and W. J. Barnmore, forwards; K. L. Reynolds and W. B. Iverson, guards; and W. J. Tewksbury, center, were the chief luminaries. Lipe played on the Decatur high school team and then went to Lake Forest academy where he received tutelage two seasons from Ralph Jones, former Illini member. Barnmore and Reynolds teamed on the Villa Grove state interscholastic champs of 1923.

It was Barnmore's unanny shooting and Reynolds' steady defense that carried their team to a victory over Rockford in the final game. Both youths placed on the all-state team.

Reeder, who now lives in Tuscola, won all-state recognition as a guard on the Atwood five which copied second honors at the state tournament in 1923. Tewksbury hails from LaGrange where he starred in high school. He is a speedy six footer and weighs 175.

Other numeral men are M. M. Marberry and G. T. Rea, Urbana; J. W. Cullen, Wilmette; M. J. Hughes, Centralia; G. D. Duncan, Altam, and W. S. Weeks, Detroit, Michigan.

The freshman team was coached by Ernest E. Bearg who also assists Coach Zuppke with the varsity footballers.

"I have never worked with a better drilled squad than the 1923 freshman team which Bearg sent up to the varsity last fall," declared Craig Ruby, the varsity coach.

Basketball is almost an all-year-round proposition at Illinois. The freshmen came out in September and a month later the varsity reported. The season did not finish until the first week in March and spring practice will begin the first of April and continue three times weekly until the close of the school year about June 1. Coach Ruby is going to look over all the freshman numeral men and many others. With five of the 1924 varsity men graduating a big opportunity awaits the candidates.

KENTUCKY TURNS DOWN NEW YORK RULING

LOUISVILLE, Ky., March 31.—The Kentucky Racing commission has accepted the entries of H. Guy Redwell, Maryland turfman, after he had been turned down by the New York Jockey Club, thereby establishing a precedent turf authorities declared here today.

For years the Kentucky commission has accepted the ruling of the New York body but failed in this case to be guided by the decision of the eastern authorities.

Redwell now is recognized by two racing bodies, the Maryland racing commission, long having sided with the horseman in his differences with the New York Club.

NEW YORK, March 31—Stock prices showed marked improvement in today's full session. For several successive weeks speculators for the decline have staged a Monday reaction but today they encountered stronger resistance and finally abandoned their attempt.

Bullish sentiment was encouraged by Washington reports that the end of the senate oil inquiry was in sight and that the senate finance committee would complete its tax revision work this week.

Apparently little attention was paid to the stiffer call money rate which opened at five percent and soon advanced to 5 1/2.

Early selling pressure was concentrated on the independent steels, new 1925 lows being established by Bethlehem, Crucible, Republic, Gulf States and Stone-island. All these stocks recovered their losses, however.

Crucible showed a net gain of almost two points at the close.
New low records also were made by nearly two score additional stocks, including Hays Wheel, Pisk Rubber common and Hess & Western Union.

Widespread comment was aroused by the temporary weakness of American Telephone, which dropped 2 1/2 points to 123.
The low this year on rumors of new financing.

Fresh buying of General Elec-ric apparently based on the closing made in the 1923 report published today sent that stock up to 219 but it slipped back later to 217 where it was up 3 1/2 on the day.

METHODIST PASTORS IN GERMANY RECEIVE INSUFFICIENT MONEY

Pay Does Not Provide Enough Plain Food for Family

CHICAGO, (AP).—The standard salary of the 263 Methodist pastors in Germany is no longer sufficient to buy the simplest food and not enough of it to give the average family a square meal at the same time, according to Bishop L. Nuelson of Zurich, Switzerland, resident bishop of Central Europe for the Methodist Episcopal church, just returned here from a tour of investigation there.

The 635 deaconesses of the church of Germany, women trained in welfare and Christian service and accustomed to frugal existence, he said, also are well in dire need of clothing and many other necessities of life.

In company with local leaders, I went into their financial problems and the conditions behind them exhaustively," Bishop Nuelson declared. "Salaries do not provide the simplest food for the average family and not enough of it to give them a square meal at the same time. There is no money for shoes or clothing left and the smallest luxuries are out of the question. Only by the use of church funds to aid them, he said, can workers be kept at their work among the suffering.

"The savings often life savings of the middle classes have simply evaporated. I know of hard-working men with families having their life-savings suddenly become so small that the whole amount in the bank wouldn't even buy a postage stamp. The banks have written off accounts. They began writing off accounts of less than one billion marks, then those of less than one thousand million marks, then those less than one billion. Life insurance went the same way.

"People do not send for a doctor now when they get sick because they can't afford it. And sickness has grown alarmingly, especially tuberculosis, due to the weakened physical condition from undernourishment. The hospital maintained by the Methodist Episcopal church cannot buy fuel and potatoes and is running with but little money paying patients only by aid from church funds. The homes for aged and orphans are in desperate plight as their source of income has evaporated. Taxation on property is enormous."

PISTOLS COMMON AS LEAD PENCILS SAYS JUDGE OF NEW YORK

More Americans Carry Weapons Than All Rest of World

CHICAGO, (AP).—A drastic bill to prohibit the importation of revolvers and placing an excise tax of $100 each on those manufactured in the United States except for export, introduced in the United States Senate by Senator Royal S. Copeland of New York, has been endorsed by the Michigan Automobile Society, Mrs. Edith Munger, of Detroit, Mich., the president, has announced.

The bill, largely written by Chief Magistrate William McAdoo of New York City, was recommended to the Michigan society by its crime prevention committee chairman, Joe Beatty Burr. In acknowledging the society action, Magistrate McAdoo declared that the bill has been endorsed by two international police conventions and approved by the American Bar Association, as well as the New York judges and the mayor.

Those opposing it, he said, are advancing "an illusion very common, that a law-abiding citizen armed with a pistol meets an outlaw, highwayman or burglar on terms of equality. This is absolutely not so," he declared. "The robber has carefully prepared to surprise the victim in or outdoors and I challenge opponents of the proposal to give the number of cases within the last 10 years where the armed citizen has prevented the burglar, shot the murderer, or deterred the highwayman from carrying out his purpose."

"Pistols are as common in the United States as lead pencils. There are more people in the United States carrying pistols or possessing them, outside the armed forces, than in all the rest of the world. There are more shootings and killings with revolvers in the United States than in all the countries of Europe, Asia and Africa."

"After we have taken the pistol out of existence as far as possible in the United States, we will then be in a position to deal with crooks."

"From my experience as former police commissioner and 11 years as chief city magistrate of the City of New York, my advice to law-abiding citizens, if they have revolvers, is to go down to the river and throw them in."

YANKS and LEGIONAIRES

Powerful Facts Concerning the Interests of Former Soldiers, Sailors and Marines

The United States army has 50 officers and 930 enlisted men at Tientsin, China.

A professor of Leland Stanford university predicts that future wars will be fought with lightning.

American Legion and other organizations seek pardons for 2,000 soldiers imprisoned for military offenses.

The 1924 convention of the Spanish War Veterans will be held at Michigan City, Ind., September 7 to 10.

Peter Sours of Valleyburg, Va., aged 87, a veteran of the Civil War, has never shaved since the close of hostilities. Now withstanding the 55 years that he has gone unshaven, his beard is not more than 10 inches long.

There are more than 65,000 former service men and women, all of whom were disabled in the World War, in vocational training through the United States who will be ready in a year or so for technical or professional positions.

A letter suggesting the name "Wilson Day" for November 11, instead of "Armistice Day" has been sent to President Coolidge and leaders in Congress by Harry H. Schlacht, president of the Downtown Chamber of Commerce in New York City, after heads of East Side soldier organizations had met to hear his suggestion and approved it.

Miss Julia Marcum, 79, of Williamsburg, Ky., is the only member of the G. A. R. and the only woman who draws a Civil War pension in her own name. She was never actually a member of the Federal forces, but she fought with detachments in the neighborhood of Huntsville, Tenn., and lost an eye and a finger in one combat.

The Secretary of War has objected to the proposal that the Government furnish transportation to war mothers who wish to visit the graves of their sons or relatives buried abroad. It is estimated the number of families affected by this would be 30,000 and it is said it would cost $50,000 to carry only 120 people to France on an army transport.

The agreement concerning the payment of the costs of the German Army of Occupation in Germany has been submitted to the French Parliament for ratification. The agreement, which was signed May 25, 1923, in Paris by the United States, Great Britain, France, Italy and Belgium, sets 1,071,000,000 gold marks as the sum to be reimbursed the United States.

Education under trained masters is compulsory for soldiers in the British army, and manual work is closely linked with school books. After training period the soldier joins a garrison or command school for two years, learning a trade, and after his service with the colors he has the opportunity of taking a six months course of intensive specialized training at an army vocational center.

The Secretaries of the War and Navy Departments, who are members of the commission in charge of the Memorial Amphitheater at Arlington National Cemetery, are understood to disapprove plans of the Fine Arts Commission for the erection of a 35-foot memorial shaft over the tomb of the Unknown Soldier. In a general way both cabinet officers are said to favor the retention of the Unknown Soldier's tomb practically as it is without the addition of any statutory or other device that might mark a departure from its present simplicity.

An "animals' cenotaph" is to be erected in London as a memorial to the birds, beasts and fishes that died in the service of the Empire during the World War. There were 364,139 casualties among horses in the British army, while dogs listed for various purposes died by the thousands. Camels, reindeer, elephants and oxen perished in transport service; cats were killed in research work; pigeons were shot down while carrying messages and mice and small birds were sacrificed in the detection of poison gases. Goldfish were used to test water in helmets.

Ground has been broken and the foundation laid at Bony, France, for a school building in memory of the soldiers of the Twenty-seventh and Thirtieth Divisions who were buried in the military cemetery near that village.

The building is being erected under the auspices of the Gold Star association of America and when it is completed will bear the following inscription: "Gold Star School: To perpetuate the memory of the American soldiers who fought, suffered or died on the Somme battle front in 1918, this building has been erected by their relatives, their friends and their comrades."

The will was made June 7, 1915, and was witnessed by L. G. Brown and C. W. Feely.

The will of Mrs. Masterton directs that the husband, Tenna J. Masterton shall receive all personal property after funeral expenses have been paid. The testator also bequeaths to her husband the use of all real estate during his lifetime or until his remarriage, and upon the event of either the property is to go to the following brothers and sisters, Robert McAllister, Anna Horrom, Joseph McAllister, Alice Sibert, Thomas B. McAllister and Emma Bushnell in equal shares. This will was made April 1, 1919, and was witnessed by John E. Hall and Edna Huh, and appoints the husband, Tenna J. Masterton executor.

"my Rheumatism is gone"

"THERE are thousands of you men and women, just like I once was—slaves to rheumatism muscle pains, joint pains, and horrible stiff, aches, and pains. I had the wrong idea about rheumatism for years. I didn't realize that increasing blood cells had the effect of completely knocking out rheumatic impurities from the system. That is why I began using S. S. S. Today I have the strength I used to have years ago. I don't use my crutches any more." S. S. S. makes people rely about themselves the way it builds up their strength. Start S. S. S. today for that rheumatism. You'll feel the difference shortly.

S. S. S. is sold at all good drug stores in two sizes. The larger size is more economical.
